Does Nauru have an electricity supply?

Nauru previously relied on diesel-powered generators maintained by the Nauru Phosphate Corporation for its electricity supply. After the dismantling of the Nauru Phosphate Corporation and government restructuring, the government-run Nauru Utilities Authority now manages the power supply.

Does Nauru have oil reserves?

Nauru does not have any indigenous supply of oil and relies entirely upon imported diesel for energy production and water desalination. No major oil companies operate out of or have a presence in Nauru. There is one service station on the island.

Does Nauru have a functioning sewage system?

Although the government has been digging wells for community use in each district as part of their National Sustainable Development Strategy, there is little water quality control or surveillance. All bottled water is imported. The Nauru Rehabilitation Corporation is responsible for Nauru's sewage system. As such, the existence and effectiveness of the sewage system is not explicitly stated in the passage.

Are there any oil companies in Nauru?

There are no major oil companies operating out of or having a presence in Nauru. The only local source of water on the island is the Buada Lagoon, which is no longer used for drinking. There is one service station on Nauru.
